Hannaford Supermarkets donate $50,000 to expand on-campus food pantries. The funding will enable NH's community colleges to renovate campus food pantries and stock them with nutritious food. The upgrades will benefit thousands of students throughout the state who experience food insecurity. Read more about their generous contribution.

Alum Kayla Harper Joins LRCC Faculty

Kayla Harper's passion for cooking led her to culinary school before gaining experience in several restaurants where she worked hard to make a name for herself in the industry. Her journey brought her back to where it all began at Lakes Region Community College (LRCC). "I'm really happy where I decided to go in life and how I got here. Attending LRCC was the right decision, both financially and in terms of the quality of education. Community college is a great stepping stone that shouldn't be overlooked." Mike Ambrogio joins Foundation's Board of Directors

Ambrogio brings more than 30 years of business and technology experience to The Foundation to support its mission of helping increase access and lessen financial barriers to those seeking a community college education in New Hampshire.

Ambrogio serves as senior technology fellow at Novocure Inc., a device-based oncology company with a novel treatment for aggressive cancers. He joined Novocure in 2006 as its first U.S. employee and served as chief operating officer for over a decade, helping to grow the company to over 1,300 employees serving cancer patients worldwide. Prior to Novocure, Ambrogio worked for 15 years at DEKA

Research and Development, Dean Kamen's invention and development firm, serving ultimately as the general manager. Earlier in his career, he worked at McKinsey and Company as a business consultant. He has a bachelor of science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and also serves on the CASA N.H. Board of Directors.

During the 2022-23 academic year, we awarded more than $750,000 in scholarships to our students. Help us Give Opportunity to more students by supporting your favorite college during NH Gives, a 24-hour fundraising event.
